

DezResto Launches New Website, Offers Joshua Tree-Area Home Buyers Two Free Nights at Yucca Valley Airbnb

New dezresto.com showcases High Desert home restorations and Joshua Tree-area real estate listings, and pairs a free two-night Airbnb stay with buyer representation

JOSHUA TREE, Calif. — September 21, 2026 — DezResto, a High Desert home restoration and real estate company based in Joshua Tree and serving Yucca Valley, Twentynine Palms, and surrounding San Bernardino County communities, today announced the launch of its new website, dezresto.com, and a new offer for qualified home buyers: two free nights at DezResto's Luna Mesa Base Camp Airbnb in Yucca Valley while touring homes with the company. DezResto is led by Stephen Samojeden, an affiliated agent with Joshua Tree Modern.

DezResto restores homes, cabins, and even vintage trailers across Joshua Tree, Yucca Valley, Landers, and the surrounding High Desert, and connects buyers and sellers with real estate services through its affiliation with Joshua Tree Modern. The new site's Desert Restorations page showcases completed work including the Desert Gold Bungalow, Kickapoo Trail Cabin, Desert View Retreat, and a garage-to-home conversion on Greasewood Lane, alongside vintage finds such as a fully restored 2003 Airstream Sovereign and a 1948 teardrop trailer.

Free Airbnb Stay for Qualified Home Buyers

The two-free-nights offer is open to home buyers who are pre-qualified and sign a buyer representation agreement with Stephen Samojeden. It is designed to make it easier for out-of-town buyers to see Joshua Tree, Yucca Valley, and surrounding desert communities in person before they commit to a purchase. Additional terms apply; details are on DezResto's free Airbnb stay page.

Luna Mesa Base Camp is a private room and bath on a 1950s cabin homestead in Yucca Valley, 10 to 15 minutes from Joshua Tree National Park.

"The High Desert has a way of taking something forgotten and making it worth a second look — an old cabin, a vintage trailer, a garage no one's used in years. That's the work I love, and now there's one place to see all of it alongside the homes we have available."
